With a special presentation on the updates for 2023 by Michael X. Repka, MD, MBA, Academy Medical Director, Health Policy

For 20 years, Coding Camp has been your entire ophthalmic team's primary source for the most up-to-date coding and reimbursement information. Along with the latest coding news and updates, Coding Camp 2022 will provide essential knowledge that will help empower your practice to manage variable payer requirements and securely maximize reimbursement. This three-hour intermediate coding session sells out fast, so sign up early. This year's course includes:

- A comprehensive review of the next wave of E/M updates
- Myth-busters: the top coding and reimbursement myths and the truths that debunk them
- Audits and lessons learned: how your practice can learn from the mistakes of others
- Claim denials: how to fix and prevent them
- Coding competency challenge: answers to the most frequently asked coding questions
