Dear IJCAHPO Certificants,

2022 was a Landmark year with IJCAHPO celebrating its 50th Annual Continuing Education (ACE) anniversary. This celebration was the high point of IJCAHPO commemorating its golden anniversary incorporation. We have put together a special 50th Anniversary publication with articles and fun facts about the program's history—including an opportunity to earn CE Credits—to signify this great event. We have this and several other important new educational initiatives coming your way soon! Watch for our new publication.

You asked, and we listened! Our Certificants started asking for an individual CE subscription—and in January, we launched our new IMiles program that offers 6 CE courses annually for $49 per individual subscription plus added benefits. This is an ideal way to keep up your professional development and pick up CE credits quickly to maintain your certification. Subscription details are in this issue.

We look forward to 2023—a new year filled with innovative education and certification opportunities for you!

Sincerely,

James C. Tsai, MD, MBA, FACS
IJCAHPO President

Did You Know? An Update from OMIC

Glaucoma Tips for Techs

January was Glaucoma Awareness Month. To spread awareness, we gathered a panel of five glaucoma experts to share Glaucoma Tips for Techs. Learn how to better prepare yourself to assist the Ophthalmologist in history taking, examination, and medication of patients with glaucoma.

Informed Consent: Physicians and Facilities

Insureds sometimes ask us about the difference between the surgeon's duty to obtain informed consent, versus the ASC's or hospital's duty. Essentially, these are two distinct responsibilities required by both the surgeon and the facility.

The physician performing the procedure must obtain the patient's informed consent; this is not a delegable duty. The physician must explain the diagnosis and reasons for the proposed treatment and the risks, benefits, alternatives, and consequences (if any) of no treatment. The physician must also assess the patient's competence to make an informed decision and comprehension of the information. The discussion should be documented in the medical record; the signed, procedure-specific consent form should be maintained in the record and a copy given to the patient.

The ASC or hospital verifies that the above discussion occurred. Facilities also obtain general consent for care rendered at their facility.

REMINDER: New Non-Certified Status Policy Effective 8/1/2022

IJCAHPO certificants who do not apply for recertification or miss the recertification deadline will be placed on non-certified status. Individuals placed on non-certified status are not permitted to present themselves as IJCAHPO certificants and they may not utilize the credential after their name on business cards, stationary, name badges, etc.

Effective August 1, 2022; from the time that the individual is placed on non-certified status, they will have 6 months, rather than 12, to apply for recertification before their credential is placed on revoked status.

Within those 6 months, the number of continuing education credits required to recertify does not increase, but a late fee will be assessed. Individuals will not receive a new certification date if they recertify within the 6-month non-certified period. For example, if the individual is due to recertify in December 2022, but does not recertify until May 2023, the new recertification cycle will remain from December 2022 to December 2025.

If the non-certified status continues longer than six months, the individual's certification will be considered revoked. Individuals with revoked status are required to contact the IJCAHPO Certification Department for reinstatement options. Retesting may be required.
Certification FAQ

Do I need to be employed to recertify?
We encourage you to recertify even if you are not currently employed. While recertification does not require that you be currently employed, it is required that all applications have a sponsoring ophthalmologist sign their application. The signature of a former employer will meet those requirements.

Have another certification question? Read all of our Certification FAQs on our website.

“Our IJCAHPO-certified ophthalmic professionals are the cornerstone of our Notal Vision Monitoring Center and remote services platform. We take pride in hiring these certified individuals and promoting their career growth potential using IJCAHPO’s education programs.”
